The CMAP staff update has a link to the page where the National Telecommunications and Information Administration will post materials from its March 2 meeting to discuss broadband grant programs in the ARRA.

The National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA), U.S. Department of Agriculture's Office of Rural Development, and Federal Communications Commission (FCC) just hosted a public meeting to present the broadband initiatives funded by the ARRA. The Public Meeting will be made available on NTIA's web site.

Weekly updates showing obligated funds are now available on the U.S. Department of Commerce recovery website.
